

The service we offer you

What do we do?

We can assist with your concerns about the quality of care or services you or someone else is receiving from Australian Government funded aged care providers. These services can be aged care services for help at home or in an aged care home, including:

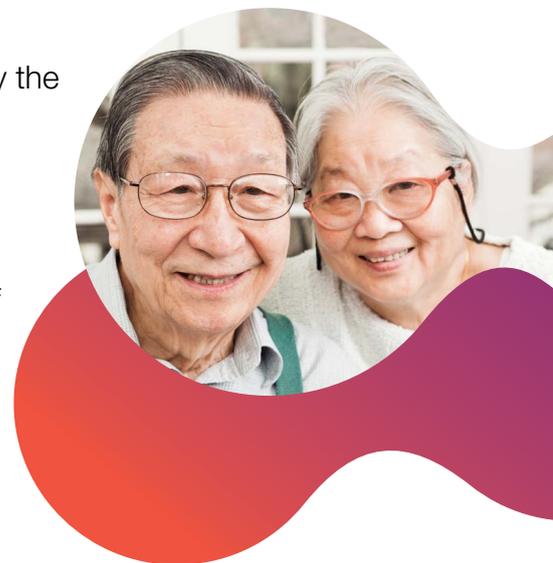

- residential care or residential respite care
- Home Care Packages
- Commonwealth Home Support Programme
- flexible care, including transition care, and the National Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Flexible Aged Care Programme.

We can support you to resolve your concerns directly with the service provider. We can also examine complaints relating to a service provider's responsibilities. This includes, for example, care, choice of activities, discrimination, catering, communication or the physical environment.

We use different approaches to resolve concerns depending on the circumstances of each case. This allows us to select the most relevant, practical and efficient approach based on your concerns.

We cannot:

- examine concerns about an aged care service that isn't funded by the Australian Government
- examine concerns that are not related to a service provider's responsibilities under the Aged Care Act 1997 or their funding agreement with the Australian Government
- say who should make financial, legal or health decisions on behalf of someone receiving aged care
- comment on the service provider's employment arrangements such as wages or employment conditions
- provide legal advice
- ask service providers to terminate someone's employment
- investigate the cause of death; this is the role of the coroner
- always determine whether or not a specific event occurred, especially if we receive conflicting accounts of the event
- provide clinical advice about what treatment a person should receive.

We can refer complaints that fall outside of our scope to other organisations. If we cannot help you, we will try to identify who can.
